Mokena's 11th Annual

HOMECOMING

Since opening in January of this year, the Welsh Lumber and Supply Company has had their headquarters in Hatch hall. They are now rushing to completion their warehouses and offices on Wolf road at the tracks. As you can see by the above photo the company is not sparing space nor expense to have one of the biggest and best stocked building supply companies in this entire territory. Homecoming visitors are extended an invitation to inspect this new modern plant.

THE Latch String is Out-

TOMORROW MARKS the opening of the Eleventh Annual Homecoming for Mokena and Mokenaites. This in itself is progress—the fact that the men who originally started this annual event had the thought in mind that the Mokena Homecoming would progress with the community. Many of the originators have now passed on, but the remaining ones are in there pitching to make the 1950 Homecoming even greater than before.

In this census year we find that we have lots of new neighbors. Instead of a mere 650 residents we have 900—250 more people to enjoy our little community. Two hundred and fifty new neighbors with whom to share our joys and sorrows.

These new people have selected Mokena for their homes, schools to educate their children and a place to get peaceful rest after a hard day's work in the city. Is it little wonder that one of the collectors we know on the Rock Island suburban run always announces: "Mokena—the garden spot of the world"?

Of course he might have to draw on his imagination somewhat to make that statement. But citizens are all working together to make Mokena just that.

If you have any doubt as to the progress of this village in the past few years, we refer you to the pictures on this page of a few of the many industries that have started up in our little community, some of them starting small and growing rapidly, while others started as the big concerns that they are today.

We welcome all you homecomers who have come back to renew old acquaintances and to make new friends and remind you that you have the privilege this year of taking little side-trips around the town that is so familiar to you and see—just see—the many changes that have happened even since last year.

To those who are here on their first visit, you too would do well to look around the village, and who knows—you might be among our citizens by the time the next Homecoming rolls around in August, 1951.

The latch string is out to all, residents, visitors and former residents alike. Mingle with the crowd, talk to the strangers you see on the street. For that is the way to become one of us. HAVE FUN EVERYBODY!

NEW LENOX LUMBER AND HARDWARE CO.

While the Mokena Branch of the New Lenox Lumber and Hardware Company has been operating for several weeks previously, the branch was officially opened on June 3, 1950.

The new building, which houses the store and office, is 48x24, and is modern in every respect. The lumber shed is 16x72 feet and is conveniently planned for all grades of lumber. Glenn Vally of New Lenox is the manager of the Mokena branch.

The New Lenox Lumber and Hardware business was started by the late George Hacker of Mokena. He was assisted by his daughter Miss Muriel Hacker and his sons-in-law, Ceward W. Batson and Frank Vally.

Following Mr. Hacker's death in 1939, the business was carried on by them. Later Mr. Batson withdrew and started an implement business leaving Frank Vally

New Homes

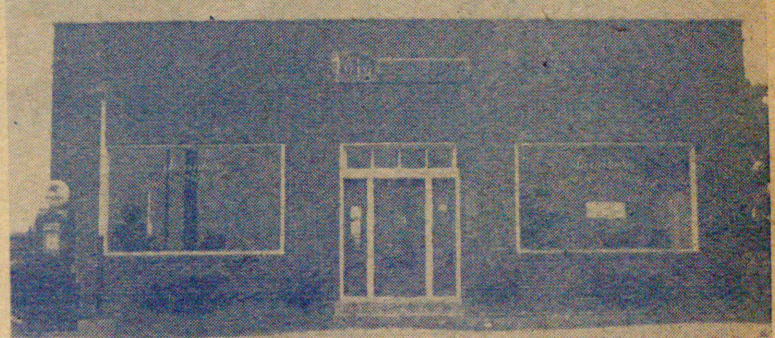

Most noticeable to the old-timers who annually make their pilgrimage to the Mokena Homecoming, is the number of new homes erected since their last visit. There is even talk around the street corners throughout the year as to how the old home town is mushrooming in proportions.

And the significant fact about these homes is that none of them are being built for rental purposes. That means just one thing: The people settling in these nice homes after they are completed, are Mokena's future citizens. Their families have picked this community as an ideal place to live, away from the hustle and bustle of the crowded metropolitan areas. They want a place where they can raise the children as they themselves were raised in the quiet peacefulness of a small town. They want a space where they can raise Pictured is a front view of the new New Lenox Lumber and Hardware Company's Mokena Branch Office. The building was completed and officially opened Saturday, June 3 of this year. In the rear of this building are the warehouses for storing lumber and other building materials. Glen Vally is the manager of this office.

This is the modern home of the Swanberg Farm and Auto Service company, who are the local Minneapolis-Moline Farm machinery dealers, carrying a large stock of parts for both automobile and farm machinery. In addition this company does an extensive automobile repair business, employing a number of local people. It is owned by Charles Swanberg, formerly of Joliet. He recently completed and has moved into one of the nicer homes south of the tracks in Mokena.

One of the most picturesque factory sites in this area is the Brownlee Mfg. company. The picture shows his beautiful home in the foreground, while to the left in the rear is the factory building. In back of the home (not pictured) is located the office of the company. Mr. Brownlee makes it a practice to employ all local help.

BIG PARADE SUNDAY 1:30 P. M.

This is a photograph of Mokena's newest Business place, The Ebert & Mancke Phosphate Service has just completed erection of this huge storage bin and elevator, which loads phosphate from the railroad car directly into a truck or into the 25 feet high storage bin, which is 16 feet in diameter, having a capacity of 175 tons of the fertilizer.

DO YOU LIKE MYSTERIES? READ THIS AND YOU'LL GET A THRILL

Mystery From Long Ago Is Still Unsolved; Who Was In The Coffin?

There's a mystery in Mokena. To clear it up one would have to go away back to pioneer times. And if one would succeed in solving the mystery he would doubtlessly find a thrilling story. Would Indians be involved? Would it be a clash between them and the pioneers? Was it a tragedy or was it merely that a loved one died a natural death.

The unsolved mystery story was published in the News-Bulletin in the issue of August 11, 1939, under the headline "Here Is a Deep Mystery." The story follows:

Was it a coffin? Who was buried in it?

These are some of the questions which agitated some of the Mokena residents last Saturday afternoon when Harry Barenz, while digging a trench for a cellar drain on the Semmler property on Front street in Mokena, discovered what appeared to be a coffin. The trench was about five feet deep. Mr. Barenz found a soft spot of ground after he had dug through dark clay. The color of the dirt changed to a darker shade and decayed pieces of wood, part of a handle like those used on old time caskets and large spikes were dug up. Soon pieces of leg bones, a piece of rib, pieces of leather soles of a square toed woman's shoe also were found.

A little further down a harder substance was struck which proved to be a two inch plank. There were several pieces of plank side by side making a three foot width. The plank was chopped off the width of the trench and when the pieces of wood were tossed to the surface they were found to be slightly decayed on top but the center was in a perfect state of preservation. The plank appeared to have been the bottom of the supposed casket which is on an angle with the trench. As there was considerable dirt on top of the remaining parts of the supposed casket no further effort was made to dig up the remains so it is not known just what may be hidden in the other portions of the supposed casket.

The bones, portions of the shoe etc. are on exhibition at the News-Bulletin office.

The above story should appeal to readers sense of imagination and many people ought to be able to

One of the oldest, most consistent business places in Mokena is Cooper & Hostert garage. They started in business here in 1916 and have since been selling Ford cars and trucks in this territory. Pictured above are the two men, taken on the occasion of their 30th anniversary in 1946.

First Mokena Village Board In June Of Year 1880

Mokena was settled in 1832 but the village was not incorporated until 48 years later. The community was built up more and more each year, but did not enjoy the advantages of incorporated communities nor the fire and police protection found in incorporated towns and villages. Mokena, located in Frankfort township, was under the township form of government until the beginning of the year 1880 when a group of progressive citizens of the community felt that the village had grown to the point where it was in need of a village form of government, and on June 14, 1880, an election was held for electing the first village board of trustees.

The following interesting record regarding this first election is on file in the Will County Courthouse in Joliet.

"In the matter of the Incorporation of the Village of Mokena, Will County, State of Illinois, under the General Incorporation Act.

"And now on this 16th day of June, A. D. 1880, on a canvass made by the County Judge of said Will County, assisted by P. Shannahan and P. M. Weber, Justice of the Peace, also of said county, of the votes cast and of the returns of an election for Trustees of the said Village of Mokena held according to call and the order of the said County Judge on the 14th day of June A. D. 1880, it being found by them that John Cappel, Oziel McGovney, John Zahn, George Smith, Valentine Scheer, John Ulrich have received the highest number cast at election on and for Trustees. It is therefore hereby found and declared by the said County Judge that they, the said John Cappel, Oziel McGovney, John Zahn, George Smith, Valentine Scheer and John Ulrich are the duly elected Trustees of said Village of Mokena.

"State of Illinois, Will County, ss. I, William H. Zarley, Clerk of the County Court, within and for the County of Will in the State of Illinois and keeper of the records and files, therefore do hereby certify that the above and foregoing is a full and correct copy of the order of said County Court, declaring the election of Trustees in the Village of Mokena, Will County, Illinois as appears from the records in my custody.

"In witness whereof I hereunto set my hand and affix the seal of said Court at office in Joliet this 17th day of June, A. D. 1880. H. W. Zarley, Clerk."

Valentine Scheer who was one of the original trustees was an uncle of the editor and served his second term as a trustee on the Mokena

By motion of George Smith to appoint John A. Hatch as clerk. Carried.

Motion by Valentine Scheer to appoint John Zahn as treasurer. Carried.

Motion by John Ulrich to appoint Wesley Kennedy Police Constable. Carried. 1880.

There being no further business on hand meeting adjourned to meet at the above named place, June 23.

Clerk, pro-temp.

Note: Printing of ordinance let to A. G. Hawley of Lockport, Ill. for $35. The first ordinances being for peddlers, circuses, lecturers, food peddlers, peddlers with horse and wagon.

The Valentine Scheer residence referred to is now occupied by the Grobarick Royal Blue store on Front street in Mokena.

The Mokena Village Board held their meetings in various places throughout the village. Along about 1912 the board held their meetings in an upstairs room over the Lies store which stood where the Cooper & Hostert garage is located and when this store building was destroyed by fire, the board held their meetings for a while in the waiting room of the Rock Island depot and later in the building now occupied by the Pfleger residence on Front Street.

In 1916, about 35 years after the first Mokena Village Board was organized, the first village hall was constructed on the village lot on which the village water tower now stands. The hall is built of brick and houses the Village board room the village jail, the pumping station and the Fire department.

News of Mokena 66 Years Ago

In years gone by Mokena has been served with weekly newspapers which were either printed in Lockport or Lemont, but bore the name of Mokena.

The News-Bulletin has a copy of the "Mokena Commercial Advertiser" dated "Mokena, Illinois, April 10, 1884." The paper was then in its sixth year and the subscription price was $1 per year in advance. The paper had as its slogan "Home news first, the world afterward." The paper consisted of four pages with 8 columns to the page. The issue mentioned had a very fine run of advertising from Lemont, Lockport, Mokena, Frankfort, Joliet and other towns.

Here are samples of the ads. Mokena business men ran 58 years ago:

R. H. TURNER
Blacksmith

Gives particular attention to horse shoeing. Curing diseased feet a specialty. All kinds of repairing done on short notice in a workmanlike manner.

J. MAVIS

Nachbour & Nicolaus, one of Joliet's Department Stores of that day had a big display adv. on silk sale. Silks were priced from 25c a yard up to $2.

Even the Rock Island railroad was a good advertiser at that time running a display adv. on their passenger service to northwestern points. The road was then known as the "Great Rock Island Route" also as the "Albert Lea Route". R. R. Cable was the vice president, and E. St. John was the general ticket and passenger agent.

In addition to local advertising, the old Advertiser also had a good run of national and patent medicine ads.

News from Lockport, Lemont, Homer, Frankfort and Mokena made up a good share of the reading matter. The following Mokena items appeared in the issue mentioned:

Best Standard Oil at 18 cents per gallon at J. Mavis.

Fine oranges and lemons, 25c per dozen at J. W. Ducker's.

Frank Pierce has returned home from Lehman's troupe.

Wm. Jacobs is now working and filling up the Past Hall, which burned to the ground three years ago.

Arthur McGovney, Wright Jones' sisters and cousins have been taking in the skating rink at Joliet the past few days.

We do not suppose Capt. Kuader makes a 4 mile trip for nothing over here.

All the young bloods were out on the track Sunday a walking.

Thirteen pounds of Standard A Sugar for $1 at J. W. Ducker's.

The quartette was seen at the gate the other evening.

Ready made clothing, good fit, and very low prices at Stoll's.

Several strangers were here lately prospecting for the new R. R. which is spoken of going through our town or east of it.

16 ounces to the lb., 36 inches to the yard at Stoll's.

Over 100 cans of milk are shipped from here every morning. Some send as high as 12 cans.

On Sunday last was consummated the long looked for marriage of Miss Emma L. Jones, of Mokena, to Mr. Walter Metcalfe of Englewood, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Noble Jones of this place.

Mr. Jones, it will be remembered, is a member of the Board of Trade, of Chicago. Mr. Metcalfe is associated with him as a grain commissioner.

The wedding, though in high life, was nevertheless a quiet one, none but immediate relations being present.

Precisely at 12 o'clock, the bride and groom appeared in the front parlor, and taking a position at the south end of the room, were greeted by the minister, Rev. J. R. Woodcock, and the ceremony was performed. Pleasing congratulations were expressed to the young adventurers on life's untrodden sea.

Never did the bride look fairer as she stood attired in Maroon colored silk, wearing natural flowers of Tea Roses and Smilax at the throat and waist, or groom to better advantage as he appeared in a traveling suit of black.

After a brief interval, refreshments were served; and at 2 o'clock the bridal party left for New York, where the "Servia" of the Cunard line, will bear them to Liverpool. England, the groom's former home and other countries will be visited, and after two months of pleasure seeing, our popular and much missed friends will return.

Gifts were—set jewelry from the groom; silver sugar bowl, W. G. Jones; crystal fruit stand, Miss Minnie Jones; silver cake basket, Miss Emma McGovney; jelly stand, Wright Jones; silver card receiver, Miss Mattie Jones; crystal and silver pickle dish, Mr. and Mrs. A. THERE WERE INDIANS IN MOKENA AS LATE AS 1938 SAYS NEWSPAPER Indians Camped on the Council Ground Of Their Ancestors at Hickory Creek

There are stories by the old-timers of Mokena, telling of the days that Indians roamed the prairies around Mokena. But very few of you know that Indians were around this village as late as 1938—just 12 years ago. To prove the above statement here is an article quoted from the September 23, 1938 issue of the News-Bulletin:

The people of Mokena were much surprised Wednesday morning when they found a large Indian encampment that had moved into the community during Tuesday night.

The tepees, surrounded by Indians, squaws and papooses, reminded the older inhabitants of the days when Wolf road was the trail of the Indians to the North and Mokena, the Indian name for "Big Hole" or "Water Hole" was the stopping place for the various tribes that came around Lake Michigan from the East and South with Hickory Creek and its vicinity as their meeting place and council ground.

The 32 Indians here Wednesday were in charge of Clarence L. Cordry, known as "White Chief Chikelli," Indian agent for Rosebud agency in South Dakota.

The Indians are full blood Sioux. The cavalcade was just returning from an engagement with the Federal Northwest Territory Pageant, touring Indiana and an appearance at the Indiana State Fair at Indianapolis.

Agent Cordry and most of the Indians were acquainted with Col. and Mrs. Don C. Hall, and they made a forced drive here to meet with them for a few hours.

A suitable camp ground was soon supplied and the "old warriors" crept into their tents for a sleep among Mokena home folks.

Many of the Indians were chiefs of different Sioux tribes and there were those among them who could have told thrilling tales of Indian attacks and wars in Dakota territory of which they were active participants from the Days of the Custer massacre in 1876 to the exciting days of the Ghost Dancers.

Among the Indians here were Chief "Afraid of Eagle", Indian government scout 85 years old, Chief "Shout At" 70 years old, Chief William "Bear Shield" and Chief "Iron Shell". Many of them had toured the world with Col. W. T. Cody "Buffalo Bill" and his Wild west show.

Mr. Cordry advised Editor Semmler that he would stop again enroute and in honor of Col. Hall and in return for Mokena's generous hospitality, would try to arrange for the presentation of a few of the rites and ceremonies and Indian tribal dances.

DO YOU REMEMBER—

Back in 1938 when Mokena had a theatre in Hatch hall?

Just 12 years ago when local merchants advertised these items at the following prices: Butter 26c a pound; rib roast 23c lb., flour, 5 lbs. 21c; "Hills Bros." coffee 26c lb.?

BRING YOUR ANTIQUES TO THE EXHIBIT TENT

Have you any interesting antiques in your basement or attic, in your living room or kitchen—then bring them to the exhibit tent by noon on Friday, August 18. Help to make the exhibit display a success. There will be a watchman on duty day and night so you needn't worry in the least about your offering. There will be many unusual sights to see at the tent, so don't fail to browse around at any time during the Homecoming.

There will also be displays of handwork and hobbies in this tent. Mrs. Margaret Bechstein is in charge of the Exhibit tent displays.

Newspaper Office Is Located In One Of Oldest Mokena Bldgs

One hundred and one years ago Martin Heim, previously operating a farm on what was formerly known as the Ben Marti farm, decided to go into the mercantile business. On the eastern end of Front street he erected a small two room house with a small attic, and set himself up in the mercantile business and sometime later he entered the tavern business.

The very same building is at present occupied by the Semmler Newspapers and Mr. Heim was the grandfather of the founder of the Semmler Newspapers, William Semmler.

As a reminder of the days of long ago, the original "back" bar used by Mr. Heim in his tavern is still to be seen in the newspaper office. The old time wainscoting in all the rooms is still intact. White pine was used extensively for building purposes in those days and cut iron nails and spikes were used. These nails are to be found in a perfect state of preservation in the present building.

The office of the newspapers is located in that part of the building built by Mr. Heim over a hundred years ago while the composing room and part of the press room is located in a larger section which was not built by Mr. Heim until many years later.

People from every walk of life including senators and congressmen as well as executives of large corporations have called at the old historic landmark at one time or another, especially so since the location of the Semmler Newspapers office is in the building.

With the observance of the eleventh annual Homecoming, incidents and memories of the days gone by are revived and while a very few of the old timers are alive, the incidents related are of interest to younger generations contrasting the hard time the forefathers experienced while carving a home in the community out of a virgin wilderness.

We should all the more appreciate the blessings and comforts we enjoy today.

In contrast to the old school erected in 1872 at a cost of $10,000, is the modern grade school building illustrated directly below the old school picture. An addition is scheduled to be built on the new school in the near future. An architect's drawing of the improvements is on display at Cooper & Hostert's garage.

their own fresh vegetables and fruit, and at the same time getting the benefit of the fresh, pure air. Since the first of the year there have already been issued permits to build 14 new homes at a total cost of $100,500.00. That record is for the village of Mokena alone. In the county, or Mokena's suburban territory, many new homes are springing up it seems daily. Although figures are not available at press time we can safely estimate the amount would equal, if not exceed, Mokena's building record.

In addition to the new homes in Mokena permits have been issued to the amount of $17,950.00. Represented in these figures are 17 different buildings either finished or in the process of construction since January, 1950.

Some people felt that they needn't build but remodel and modernize their homes and other structures. Of these permits were issued to three at a total cost of $6,500.00.

In case you don't think Mokena is growing just glance at this total figure from all permits issued this year. It comes to $124,450.00.

New Businesses

and his sons, George and Glenn in the lumber business. Miss Muriel Hacker is bookkeeper. Previous to establishing the New Lenox lumber business Mr. Hacker was in the same business in Mokena which he later sold to the Frank Mall Lumber company.

SWANBERG FARM & AUTO SERVICE CO.

One of the finest stocked and equipped farm machinery sales and service organizations in this immediate area is the Swanberg Farm & Auto Supply Service company, located on Wolf Road in Mokena.

Mr. Charles Swanberg established this active business some six years ago, coming here from Joliet. He employs a large staff of expert workmen, mostly all local men.

Mr. Swanberg and his family are now local residents, having built a house in the southwestern section of the village, which in itself is a credit to the community. He also takes an active interest in the village affairs, constantly striving toward the progress of his own community.

WELSCH LUMBER & SUPPLY COMPANY

Among the newer businesses to start up in Mokena is the Welsch Lumber and Supply company which was organized and opened for business here in January, 1950.

Since opening they were surprised at the welcome shown them by the citizens of this territory. The company has laid in a huge stock of merchandise representing thousands of dollars invested, and they know now that their faith in the community was well founded.

The company is at present building offices and warehouses on the Rock Island property south of the tracks facing Wolf road. When these buildings are completed they will vacate their temporary office in Hatch hall. The hall itself has many historic memories and this company, by using it, also helps to have Hatch hall known as a place of definite progress in the community.

The new lumber company owned by Walter Welsch and Elias Brown, employs in addition, John Balaz clerk, Wm. W. Welsch, Carroll Roberts, Elmer Roemer and Gilbert Homering. Their policy is to employ as many local people as possible.

EBERT & MANCKE PHOSPHATE SERVICE

Ebert & Mancke thought that Mokena was centrally enough located to start their new business. After deciding on a location they immediately began the construction of a phosphate storage bin, and equipped it with the latest thing in elevators and loading equipment.

Though their business has been open for only three weeks, both of the young men are well known in this territory. Chester Ebert, and Warren Mancke offer a complete fertilizer service to the farmers in this area. They are equipped to deliver and spread on the land phosphate and lime. The boys also make the announcement that they have a department for testing the soil to determine deficiency.

They have gone to considerable expense to build a permanent service plant in Mokena. The storage bin, 25 feet high by 16 feet in diameter, has a capacity of 175 tons. The elevator acts to unload direct to the trucks from railroad cars or by merely throwing a lever can direct the product into the storage bin.

MOKENA WALL PAPER COMPANY

One of the older factory sites is the old Bowman Dairy plant, until 1926 which operated here for years. Later the building housed the old Mitchell Brewery. After the Brewery closed in 1933, the building was bought by the Mokena Wall Paper Co. about a year or two later. The men connected with this new enterprise were experienced wallpaper manufacturers and incorporated this concern in July 1941.

The wallpaper printing press was started up August 12, 1941, and the company has since added three other presses, built additions to the original building, employed additional local help, until now it is aiding to support more local families.

VELVA-KLEEN PRODUCTS

One of Mokena's little known manufacturers is the Velva-kleen products company. This factory is located on Circle drive, and was started in January, 1948 by Robert DeForest.

Bob had been "playing" with a certain formula for a couple of years prior to the establishment of the business and finally found that he had a product that work men wanted.

At the start his total equipment was a baseball mit, a hand whittled paddle and a galvanized wash tub. With this he mixed his first batch of "Waterless" soap. A workman would use it and find that it was perfect for removing paint, grease, printer's ink, and any kind of dirt from the hands, face and arms, yet was not harmful to the skin—in fact it helped to guard against chapping in the winter. The result was that one told another.

In about a year and a half, the Velva-kleen products has outgrown the wash tub method of mixing the soap to special mixing machines designed by Mr. DeForest.

The output now averages 5,000 cans a month shipped to all parts of the United States.

WOODLAND PRODUCTS INDUSTRIES

This business made its small start in Mokena in October, 1948, making all types of jackets for men women and children—all made to measure. The Industries sells at wholesale, to retailers throughout the Chicago area. They also sell their clothing at retail and this fall, according to Mr. Beyer, they are adding a line of men's suits, topcoats and overcoats.

The growth of this tailoring plant while not phenomenal, has been steady, and in season employ as many as seven or eight people. At present about one third of the building on Wolf road at Laporte road isn't finished, but plans are being made to increase the floor space to the full use of the building

New Lenox Group Petitions to Join JTHS District

The question of where to attend high school is uppermost in the minds of New Lenox voters as well as in those of adjoining townships. One faction in New Lenox desires to join the Joliet Township high school district.

A petition, circulated by Frank Vally, recently with 68 signers, was filed over the week end, with Louis F. Bottino, county superintendent of schools, asking that all of New Lenox township be detached from the Will county non-high school district and be attached to the Joliet Township High School district.

At the same time a like petition was circulated in Joliet by Miss Jennie Hamilton, secretary to Supt. Hugh S. Bonar at the JTHS. There are 100 signers to it.

Supt. Bottino, after studying the petition and signatures to see if they are in order, will call an election on the issue within 30 days.

In order for the election to carry it must carry both in Joliet township and New Lenox township.

In the meantime Dr. W. C. Reavis of the University of Chicago is making a survey of the high school situation in New Lenox, Frankfort, part of Manhattan townships.

Former Mokena Sch'l Man at West Aurora

Wayne E. McCreery, 43, a former Mokena school principal and coach, has been appointed to serve as superintendent of the west side Aurora schools. He assumed his duties August 1, after being selected from a group of 30 applicants. Since leaving Mokena he has held positions at Leland, Marengo, and Crystal Lake, Illinois.

In announcing the appointment, John T. Matthews, president of the west side board of education stated: "The board feels very fortunate in securing the services of Mr. McCreery and Dr. William C. Reavis, of Chicago university, who has acted as consultant for the board, has given his approval of the choice having known McCreery personally."

Mr. McCreery finished a two year course at the Northern Illinois Teachers' college and received a degree of bachelor of science in education from the University of Illinois in 1930. He received his master's degree in the same subject at that school in 1935 by attending summer sessions. He has since taken two summer sessions at Northwestern university and two at the University of Chicago, having just completed the second one this summer.

Mr. McCreery, who is a member of Phi Delta Kappa honorary graduate fraternity in education, has been a member of and held office in many organizations in the towns where he has been located. He is listed in "Who's Who in American Education" as well as "Who's Who in Illinois." He and his wife Ethel, are the parents of two daughters, Nancy 14, and Margaret 7.

O. P. SUPT. OF SCHOOLS REPORTS ON INCREASED ENROLLMENT

Superintendent Virgil Henry of the Orland Park public schools has announced the following results of the registration of high school students for the coming year: 48 freshmen, 35 sophomores, 36 juniors, and 37 seniors; total, 156. He expects a few more students to register late, bringing the total high school enrollment to more than 160. This enrollment is considerably higher than that of any previous year in the school's history.

Of the 156 students already registered, 101 live in the Orland Park school district and 55 outside the district. Of the 55 outside students, seven reside in the Oaklawn area of the Cook County non-high district, 11 in the Tinley Park area of the new high school district in Bremen township, 15 in the Mokena area of the Will County non-high district, and 22 in the Palos High school district.

The new freshman class of 48 students (with a few more to register) is divided as follows: 27 from the Orland High school district, 12 from the Palos High school district, five from Tinley Park, three from Mokena and 1 from Oaklawn. In addition to the new freshman class, the following other new

MOKENA WATER AN EDITORIAL

We find again this year the annual announcement that Mokena water has to be boiled because a test was made by the state chief engineer finds the water contaminated and unfit to drink.

Upon interviewing our local health officer, Dr. E. G. McMahon, we find that very little has been done about the situation since the "scare" call came about a year ago to boil water before using.

Dr. McMahon made the statement to a reporter of this paper that since the announcement was made about a year ago there have been tests made every three months. The results of these tests, he said have mostly been that village water was barely fit to drink and the state department of health recommended that something be done to clear up the situation. Now comes the report of the contamination of the water supply.

There are a number of reasons why the water would be in this condition, but the important thing is that nothing apparently has been done about the situation except to clean the storage tank and repair the roof. That it seems was not the cause of pollution of the water, although the condition of the tank helped to contaminate our water supply.

Could it be our many antiquated septic tanks that cause seepage into our supply to the well? That is a question that can only be answered by a thorough survey which is being made by the state, who in turn will give the village board their recommendations on the steps to take to clear up the matter.

What if an epidemic of serious proportions breaks out in the community? In case that happens it would be a case of locking the barn after the horse was stolen.

The public and this newspaper urgently request the village board and each of its members individually to clear up this water situation in the village permanently.

PUBLIC SERVICE TO EXHIBIT AT PEOTONE FAIR

The electric farm show of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, which was a feature of last year's Will county fair, will play a return performance at the 1950 fair, August 25, 26 and 27 in Peotone with a completely new exhibit, it was announced today by the utility.

With "better methods" again the theme, the new display especially produced for county fairs, shows how electricity saves dollars and labor for both the farmer and the farm wife.

Housed in a "big top" tent, 60x90 feet, the exhibit features actual electrical equipment, working models and blow-up photographs demonstrating new ideas in crop drying, barn ventilation, food freezing, milk cooling and pasteurization, livestock water warmers, dehumidifiers, insect "killers", egg washers, egg coolers, egg graders, automatic poultry feeders, and electrically heated bee hives.

As the center of attraction for the farm wife, modern electric kitchen and laundry equipment will be displayed on a huge revolving turntable.

In addition to the farm and home electrical exhibits, moving pictures will be shown free six times daily to all visitors in the 200-seat farm theater under the utility's "big top."

The exhibit will be open daily during the three days of the fair and all persons attending the fair are invited to visit the free electric farm show.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Mrs. William Semmler
Editor and Publisher
News Bulletin
Mokena, Illinois

Dear Mrs. Semmler:

I want to congratulate you for your unusual attitude toward considerable space for education news. It is a refreshing exception. Your willingness to give space to run the statistical report as prepared by our Assistant Superintendent, Mr. Cherry, is evidence of this attitude. If more newspapers would only understand the tremendous and fundamental relationships of schools and schooling to not only the welfare of the local community but also to the welfare of the state and nation, there, no doubt, would be more favorable headlines about adequate school facilities and adequate school services and fewer extensive headlines and less liberal space for the sordid deviation of the weak minorities who fail in marriage, in business, and in the many social and economic areas where men and women work and live.

Very sincerely yours,
H. S. Bonar,
Supt. Joliet Township High School and Joliet College.

STATE REPORTS MOKENA WATER SUPPLY TO BE CONTAMINATED

Village Board Cooperating With State and County Health Departments
To Clear Up the Situation

Dr. E. G. McMahon received a report of the most recent test made by the state of Mokena's water supply. The test report, dated August 8, 1950 showed the Bacteria count as four plus one minus.

The notation on the bottom of the report reads: "This report shows the water analyzed to be contaminated and not safe to drink." In the report the state asked "Have any repairs been made recently which might have opened the well or mains to contamination?"

Upon contacting Harold Spiess, president of the village board, he stated that the trouble might have been caused the night when the automatic control didn't work and the tank was drained. He added the village board is doing everything possible to remedy the trouble, and have spent $1000 during the past year on the village water supply.

After the announcement Friday that the water should be boiled before drinking, there were a number of stories started the rounds among which was one that dead birds were found in the tank as well as dead animals. Also among the stories circulating was the one that the tank wasn't roofed over and that the water in it was exposed.

Plans are now completed for Mokena's eleventh annual Homecoming which opens Friday, Aug. 18 and will continue through Sunday night, August 20. The committee in charge promises all who come a much better and larger Homecoming celebration than was ever offered before.

One of the main attractions at this affair will be the exhibit tent where one can browse around and see many antiques and other interesting displays.

Many of our business men are making this occasion an open house to inspect their various places of business, and many will feature registrations and awards.

This big annual event sponsored jointly by the Mokena Civic association, The Volunteer Fire Department, and Post No. 725, Mokena VFW, have all cooperated in a big way to make this event a success, many of the members of the various organizations working day and night on the plans. General chairman Alfred "Joe" Hatch, a veteran in Homecoming work, has driven the different committees to their task of making this Homecoming a success.

There are many things scheduled for this big event, some of which are the Street dance Saturday nite, and the huge parade set for 1:30 p.m. Sunday. Norval Robinson, parade chairman, says that this event alone will be worth coming miles to see.

Elmer Schoeneck, Glenn Peterson and T. O. Lackey comprise the entertainment committee and, according to the acts booked for the week end they have chosen some top-notch nationally known entertainers.

Even eats and refreshments have not been neglected. Maude Larson and Matilda Stankus are the committee in charge of the refreshment stand, with the backing of the whole VFW auxiliary. Need more be said?

You of course, will see Walter Schoeneck and John Schaub working as usual.

And last but not least, Whitney Carter has been engaged for the job of emcee throughout the entire program.

Why not set aside these three days to bring your family for a real weekend of enjoyment. Join in the fun and you can't help it. And don't forget—there will be rides and games for young and old. We'll see you at the Homecoming.

New Lenox Lions at White Sox Game

The New Lenox Lions and their guests, 28 in all, went to Chicago Tuesday night to see the White Sox play ball. The club had purchased 36 tickets to the ball park and found use for the extras when they discovered some lads at the gate who had an earnest desire to see the game but no way of getting into the park. The Lions, in their usual good-natured way, added to their own pleasure by sharing it with the others.

Otto Bornet decided to buy popcorn for the whole group and, with Sheldon Hawck, furnished extra entertainment when each insisted on paying the popcorn man. To date there is no definite report on who paid the lion's share.

This newspaper chartered an airplane Tuesday night for the purpose of making observations. We can report, on good authority, that the roof of the storage tank is in perfect shape, and that the only way foreign matter could get into it would be to have someone place it there. As far as the tank roof is concerned no one need believe these stories. The contamination does not come from that source.

According to the Mokena Health officer, the water is tested every three months. The results of these tests in the last two periods prior to the August 8 test showed that the water was barely fit to drink, and the state department of health recommended that something be done to clear up the situation.

Stats and county men were here last Saturday, and, according to Village President Harold Spiess, the village board is now waiting for their report as to what to do to clear up the situation. As late as Tuesday night no further word was heard from either the state or county.

It is hoped that before press time some word will be heard so that announcement can be made in this newspaper.

Motor Club Advises On Inflated Tires

The advice which the Chicago Motor Club gives regarding over-inflated tires is the easiest to follow: let them alone.

Car owners in the midst of a summer tour are often in doubt about the correct care of tires which pick up pressure from incessant poundings on a sun-baked highway.

Just let them be, says the motor club. They may pick up from two to eight pounds in air pressure during the course of a day's summer driving but this will be lost as the automobile stands overnight in cooler temperatures.

Drivers who check the tires every time they stop for gas are running a risk, according to the motoring organization. The tire gauges at different service stations may vary as much as five pounds. Ideally, a motorist should carry his own gauge, testing it periodically for accuracy. Those who don't are advised to check air pressure once a day, in the morning when the tires are cool.

The proper inflation of tires under normal conditions is important but it is dependent upon the make of the tire, its size and the weight it must carry. Motorists should consult their local dealer about correct air pressure for their tires.

Another headache for summer drivers is overheated radiators. Most radiators "heat up" because motorists fail to keep them filled with water. In others, however, rust from the engine interior permeates the water and causes the radiator pipes to clog. The water then backs up and is lost through the overflow outlet just beneath the radiator cap.

This can easily be avoided by keeping the radiator filled with clean water. Occasional flushings will eliminate foreign matter.

Five Illinois Press Books at National Federation Headq'trs

Third district IFWC president, Mrs. W. D. Lear, reports with much pride, that the press book prepared by the Beverly Hills WC for 1949-50, in Class B, was sent to the General Federation of Woman's Clubs, Washington, D. C. by IFWC press and publicity chairman, Mrs. Albert W. Simandl, after being selected by a committee of qualified judges, to be entered in the national contest with books from other states. The winning book will receive a special citation from the general federation.

The other books sent from the State of Illinois came from Associate Group of Woman's Clubs of Wilmette, tenth district, Class A; Arlington Heights Woman's club seventh district, Class C;

The press book has long been favored by women's clubs as it presents a valuable record of the Club's activities and is a yard stick of its civic service.—Mrs. A. Douglas Coe, third district press chairman.

Rufe's Ramblings

By RUFÉ PICKETT

by Rufe Pickett

Po' folks down home never get to see their names in a newspaper but a very few times during their lives. Mine may have been in some fifty-five years ago, but I never knew for sure because that blessed event took place so far up along Haw river that nobody in the neighborhood subscribed for any paper.

Under different circumstances I might have seen my name in print thirty-three years back but I was on a work train on registration day, was later drafted as one of the quota from the point of registration, and while a very few fellows get in the alphabetical list twice in their lives I failed to find my name in the paper at all.

Another chance came just twenty-five years ago. Miss Hodgins, as all the school kids called her, wanted to teach on till the end of the term. I had to come on back up here and get to work and she came later on. I have known a few people who have been in such a write-up five or six times but I was left out because she and I went to another county seat and got our license. I didn't get sore at any editors about it because I wouldn't expect them to know something that even the bride's fourth graders didn't know about.

Now I am not complaining about my lack of publicity but I do believe that after you all read this you will better understand why I sit down and write the stuff I do just so that I can see my name in something besides some freakish accident, reportable crime, or obituary.

CERTIFIED COPY OF RESOLUTIONS OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF FRANKFORT STATE BANK

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of The Frankfort State

"LONG DISTANCE, PLEASE"—"A column up front has been cut off. The Reds are giving them hell. They need cover quickly." That's the sort of call that moved this U. S. 105-mm. howitzer team into action. Heaving shells a distance of approximately seven miles, the weapon drops messages of death among the enemy. And the gun's echoing roars are reassuring words to the ears of imperiled frontline forces in South Korea. The Yank on the telephone at right is checking up on the crew's long-distance effectiveness.

IN THE WAKE OF A TWISTER—A death-dealing tornado struck Rhinelander, Wis., killing two and injuring 50. In the wake of the violent wind storm, which caused untold damage, lay shambled barns and homes grim reminders of nature's fury.

Bank held on August 8, 1950, the following resolutions were adopted WHEREAS by Section 17 of "An Act to revise the law in relation to promissory notes, bonds, due bills and other instruments in writing" approved March 18, 1874, as recently amended, it is provided in part that any bank doing business within the State of Illinois may select any one day of the week to remain closed and that any act authorized, required or permitted to be performed at or by or with respect to such bank on a day which it has selected to remain closed under the provisions of said Act may be performed on the next succeeding business day;

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that pursuant to all the provisions of the aforesaid Act this Bank hereby selects and designates the last day of the week, commonly called Saturday as the day of the week to remain closed, commencing with Saturday the 2nd day of September, 1950.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Vice President and Cashier of this Bank, the officer having charge of the records of this Bank shall be and he is hereby directed to certify a copy of these resolutions, to file the same with the Recorder of Deeds of Will County and to publish the same at least once each week for three successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in such county, all prior to the date of such first closing.

I, the Vice President and Cashier of the Frankfort State Bank, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of resolutions adopted by the Board of Directors of the said Bank at a duly constituted meeting of the said Board held on the 8th day of August, 1950 and entered upon the regular record book of said Bank.

TWO FULL DAYS!

You Can Save Tomato Crop From Late Blight

You may be able to save your tomato crop from late blight if you follow the simple rules that University of Illinois plant pathologist M. B. Linn used to predict when the disease is most likely to appear.

Essentially you need to keep your weather eye on daily rainfall and temperature. When weather conditions are just right, says Linn, late blight will spread quickly over the whole tomato crop. Rapid spreading occurs when temperatures do not rise above 70 degrees and the plants are wet from dew or rain.

This general rule for late blight has held true for virtually every outbreak of the disease. And if you catch the disease in time, you'll have saved your crop from one of the worst tomato-killers.

Don't count too much on official temperatures from weather stations to be accurate for your fields, warns Linn. Usually this reading will be either higher or lower than the air temperature around the plants. You must consider the location of your field or garden, too. If it is on high ground, good air circulation will soon evaporate any moisture from the tomato leaves and fruits. However, if you have low, sheltered spots in your plot, they may be cooler than the rest of the garden, and rain or dew will stay on longer.

You can recognize late blight, sometimes called potato blight because it attacks those plants too, from the large, irregular brown spots on the tomato leaves. It rots both green and ripe fruit. The disease can destroy a tomato plant in a few days if conditions are right, and it has been reported in one eastern state already this season.

You can control late blight by using fungicides when the disease first appears. Circular 522, The Illinois Garden Guide, has fungicide recommendations for late blight and other tomato diseases. You can get it from your farm adviser or by writing to the Agricultural Experiment Station, Urbana, Ill.

A Great Preacher?

Lesson for August 20, 1950

JESUS SAID of him that there had never been a greater man than John, the Baptist. Certainly there has never been a greater preacher, to this day. He had none of the aids a modern preacher has. He had no song leader, no music of any kind; no church organization, not even a tent. He was not even in a village but in a bandit-infested wilderness. There was little "dramatic" about him or his methods.

Yet he started a tremendous revival, and he won higher praise from Jesus than any other human being received from him.

Dr. Foreman

Candor
CONSIDER SOME of the qualities of this famous man. One was candor, that is, he was not afraid to speak his mind. His opinions were not always popular; his verdicts were not always those of the masses. But he spoke his mind all the same.

He called his hearers "generation of vipers," "snakes' babies, in modern words. He freely admitted he was no Messiah. When on a later occasion he had his doubts about Jesus, he did not conceal them, but told Jesus straight from the shoulder that he questioned him. And Jesus honored his honesty.

Candor is a rare article. Those few persons in public life who are willing to speak their minds may make some enemies but they make more admirers. The odd thing is that people cover up their minds for fear they will be unpopular; whereas you will generally find that the candid person does not lack for friends.

Courage
THAT BRINGS up another quality outstanding in this extraordinary man: his courage. He could stand up to the most prominent citizens and tell them they were sinners, and name their sins.

It doesn't take much courage to say you are a sinner, or to say that any one is. Aren't we all? It takes more nerve to speak out in plain language, as John did to the Pharisees and Herod for example. When he called on men to repent, he meant a specific repentance, not repentance-in-general.

In a southern state there was a prison chaplain at the penitentiary. One of the prisoners had been convicted of stealing funds from the state bank. But he never had admitted his guilt, in court or afterwards. He was stand-offish with the chaplain, though before his conviction he used to be a church officer and a praying man, the chaplain could hardly get next to him.

Finally one day he agreed to pray. As he and the chaplain knelt down together, the prisoner began: "Lord, thou knowest that we are all miserable sinners . . ." The chaplain stopped him. Leaning over he said to the prisoner: "What are you in here for?" The man was still a moment. Then in a quite different tone of voice he began again: "O God, forgive me for stealing from the State Bank." It was the first time he had ever admitted his guilt. But it took courage on the chaplain's part as well as his own.

Common Sense
ANOTHER QUALITY of John which deserves notice is his simple common-sense. Listen to what he tells the men who come with this question: What must we do? John's common-sense mind knew that repentance, just by itself, is not enough. Repentance is turning from something bad to something good, from wrong to right.

Let the man with two shirts share with the man who has none, he said. Let him who has food do likewise. Let the tax-collector be honest. Let the soldier stop grumbling; even in an "occupied country" a soldier must not be unjust or cruel.

Pointing to Christ
WHAT MAKES John best remembered is that he preached Christ. He is known as the forerunner; he was the man who said of Jesus, "He must increase but I must decrease." The preacher who calls attention to himself is an egotist, a show-off; the preacher who draws men's eyes and hearts to Jesus Christ may himself be small, but his work will be great.

Largest Bean Crop To Be Discussed at State Convention

The question of disposing of what may be the largest U. S. Soybean crop in history will be uppermost at the 30th annual convention of the American Soybean Association to be held in Springfield, Ill. Aug. 28-29-30. The Leland hotel will be convention headquarters and all sessions, except the banquet, will be held in the Illinois State Armory.

One full day will be devoted to the question of marketing and utilizing the 1950 crop.

The formal program will be presented the first two days, Aug. 28 and 29, and will be headlined by leaders in agriculture, industry and government.

The third day, Wednesday, Aug. 30, will be given over to discussion of crop promotion. Soybean processors and grain handlers are given special invitations to attend this session.

The convention will include no field day this year, but convention visitors are invited to visit the experimental farms at the University of Ill., Urbana, and some of the nation's largest soybean processing plants at Decatur, Ill., enroute to or from the convention.

The Abraham Lincoln memorials at Springfield and New Salem State park are also points of interest.

A tour for the women will be held Tuesday, Aug. 29 and the annual convention banquet will be held the same evening in the Elk's club building.

Hotel reservations should be placed direct with the Leland hotel at Springfield, Secretary Strayer says. Any requests that the Leland is unable to fill will be referred to the Abraham Lincoln hotel near by.

Simerl Says: Expect Unsettled Markets

A University of Illinois farm economist today said that we should expect unsettled markets during the months ahead. He gave four reasons for his warning.

L. H. Simerl says, first, the all-important corn crop is made largely during July and August. Yield depends mainly on rainfall and also on corn borer damage.

Second, military operations always have a strong influence on market activities, since they interfere with normal production and distribution processes.

Third, needs for price control and rationing will be discussed by the public and probably debated by Congress.

Finally, even before the recent international developments, many people had little confidence in prevailing price levels. Now most people are even more uncertain about probable price behavior.

Simerl says a major business boom was in progress long before Korea made the headlines and that the war news adds strength to an already strong market situation. But prices of farm products and other raw materials will drop from time to time, especially after market rises. All of these things should be considered carefully in making medium and long-time farm plans.

Printing Progress

Invention of movable type by Johann Gutenberg in 1450 marked the transition from the Middle Ages to the modern age. Printing led to the spread of knowledge. From the old screw-type of press we have more recently come, through American inventions of typesetting machines and stereotyping processes, to giant newspaper presses that print with lightning speed in black and all colors of the rainbow. But the centuries-old type cases still have their place in every modern printing shop.

A word to the wives...

(You can't go wrong if you clip this ad and leave it lying around for the Man of the House to read)

Jim Taylor was asking me to find out what's bothering his wife, Sally. It seems she's just all of a sudden fed up with having to plan ahead every time she wants to use hot water. She can't decide on the spur of the moment to wash her hair, or polish off a hamper of laundry . . . she has to think of it an hour or so ahead of time to be sure of having hot water. And now she's shooting sparks about the whole thing. Jim thinks she needs a vacation or something.

My husband thought I needed a vacation last year about this time, too. But I told him I'd settle for an automatic GAS water heater. It was less expensive and it's saving my disposition (and time and energy) all year 'round, instead of for just two weeks. The laundry's a snap . . . housecleaning is child's play . . . and we have all the hot water we need for just a few cents a day.

So I told Jim, and I'll tell your husband, too . . . just having an automatic GAS water heater is a vacation in itself!

See your plumber, appliance dealer or our nearest store. SMALL DOWN PAYMENT . . . and up to 24 months to pay balance with your Service Bill.

How to Prevent Mildew Problems

We've had our share of summer rains and dampness. Take steps to prevent the growth of mildew in your house.

Miss Edna Gray, clothing specialist, University of Illinois College of Agriculture, says that removing the cause of dampness is the necessary step in preventing mildew.

Ventilate the house only when the air outside is cooler and drier than that inside. As the cool air is warmed inside the house, it absorbs moisture. Take advantage of cool, dry nights to freshen the air in the entire house.

If you can't get rid of the dampness by airing, try one of the devices to dry air. There are chemicals which absorb moisture in the air, and there are electrical devices which remove the moisture from the air.

Keep an electric light bulb or a small electric heater burning in closets, or other small rooms. Or use calcium chloride in damp closets. Place an open container of solid chloride in the closet; then when it becomes liquid, replace it with fresh calcium chloride. You can buy it in a department or drug store.

If you already have mildew, heat the house for a short time with a stove, furnace, or an electrical reflector. Then open doors and windows to let out the warmed air that has taken up the extra moisture. Use an electric fan to force out the warm, moist air more quickly.

Musty odors in basements and cellars are usually due to molds and will disappear if the house is well heated and dried. But if the odor persists, chloride of lime is a good deodorant and disinfectant to use. Sprinkle it over the basement floor, and let it stay until all mustiness disappears. Then sweep it up, scrub and dry the floor.

Attention Republicans

Who support GOVERNOR DEWEY and that truly great American SENATOR VANDENBERG

You were READ out of the Republican Party by Representative Lottie Holman O'Neill on Friday, August 11, 1950, at the Republican State Convention at Peoria.

You can VOTE her out as a spokesman for your party at the November election and stay in your party.

VOTE FOR SAM PERRY
[Joseph Sam Perry]

(Her Democratic opponent for the State Senate)

P. S. Mrs. O'Neill herself established a precedent for you to help elect a Democrat. After losing to Senator Barr in a Republican primary she bolted the Republican party and ran as an independent against Mrs. Ruth Hannah McCormick, who was the Republican nominee for the United States Senate. Her action divided the Republican and Women's vote and contributed to the election of a Democrat, the late Senator James Hamilton Lewis.

WOLVERINE and MARKS

REST FOR THE WARRIOR—During a lull in the bitter exchange of blood and bullets for Korean ground, an exhausted U. S. soldier stretches out on the muddy battlefield upon a makeshift mattress of straw. He'll sleep, with rifle ready for instant use, until the next call to combat against the relentless armored foe.

ust 29 to take part in the VFW National Encampment parade.

One of the topics of discussion that was on the docket for our regular meeting is the matter of the Drum & Bugle Corp. There were so many other topics that required discussion that I guess the Commander decided not to bring up the topic at this meeting. I sincerely hope that this topic is not dropped without further discussion. On July 31, 1949, a dance was held to raise funds for that purpose, and a bass drum has been acquired. Under the plans outlined for starting, an expenditure of $15 or $20 is all that is required. Let us give this plan due consideration. If we cannot muster enough manpower from our own ranks, perhaps we can sponsor a juvenile corp.

The 2nd annual Labor Day dance plans are well under way. Everyone who likes to dance should make plans now to attend. Many more dances in the fall and winter are sure to follow and good bands will be engaged to furnish the music. However, considerable funds will be expended and we must realize a profitable evening in order to bring these bands here.—Elmo L. Saarela, Publicity.

SHORT STORY

An Annual Affair

By Richard Hill Wilkinson

LAST YEAR WE appointed Barney Bridges chairman of our annual fair in Burncrest. Old Jake Fletcher had been chairman for 15 years, and there were those who disapproved of ousting him in favor of young Barney.

3-Minute Fiction

Cyrus Gill, the town's leading and richest citizen, voiced the sentiments of the majority. "Jake ran a good enough fair, but Jake's getting old and his ways are out of date. We gotta keep up with the times out here in Burncrest like everywhere else. Barney Bridges is young and has modern ideas."

This was true enough. Barney promised to zip up the fair. The first thing he planned to do was modernize the horse racing event. Heretofore we'd just had races that were run for the honor of the thing, trotters, with folks making side bets. Barney's idea was to import some famous promoter and make the betting open.

"It's a heck of a lot worse to have a lot of undercover betting going on with no system to it than it will be to have open betting with everyone being given a chance to throw in his dime's worth."

Every one but Jake Fletcher agreed. "The only trouble with that is," he allowed, "this professional promoter jigger you're going to import ain't known to none of us. If he's a slicker, look out!" "Pshaw!" declared Barney tolerantly. "The man I have in mind has been in the business for years. He wouldn't dare try nothin' funny."

"Dunno about that," said Jake. "You got to figure that every last man of us is endowed with criminal instincts. Oh, we're honest enough on the surface. That's because we're smart. But you give us a chance to pull a fast one and we'll jump at it—if we're sure we can get away with it."

ANYWAY, Barney imported this chap Dana Easton. Dana Easton had promoted everything from prize fights to steamboat races. When we put the proposition up to him he said he'd sure be glad to promote the horse racing angle of our Fair.

The day of the Fair arrived and it seemed that most of the money was bet on a mare named Homing Pigeon, driven by Charley Colewell. Charlie had won plenty of races in past years and it looked like he was going to win again.

I sat in the grandstand and watched the sulkies line up. They made a pretty sight. The band was playing, the sun shinning and everybody was happy and feeling festive. Dana Easton had proven his showmanship by decorating the track and grounds and issuing silk shirts and caps to the drivers. He had also hired the band and installed a loudspeaker system.

Then the race started. Around the track they went, six of them. Burnside's best, stretching out their necks, in perfect stride. Homing Pigeon led up to the half, then Jasper Bush's horse came abreast of him, then Hector Dryson came abreast of them, then Fergus Cross the picnic program has planned the numerous activities. There will be races and games for the youngsters barbershop quartet singing and other events. Red Blanchard and the Circle 3 Boys of the WLS national barn dance show also will be on hand to provide entertainment during the afternoon. A ball game between teams from the eastern section of the county and Joliet is scheduled for 4 o'clock.

Between three and five thousand persons are expected to attend the picnic. Families may bring their own picnic lunches, but those who choose may purchase food on the grounds at nominal prices. The committee in charge, of which Sheriff John Kirincich is chairman, has arranged to present a free television set. No tickets will be sold but every person present will be given a number and the holder of the number drawn will go home with a TV set. In the evening, from 8 to 11, there will be free dancing in the park pavillion under the auspices of the Young Republicans club. Ample free parking space will be available all day, so persons may come early and stay late.
